

Lashing Storm
Takes 8 Lives
Across Nation;
Midwest Hit

(By The Associated Press)

At least eight deaths were attributed today to a lashing March storm that buffeted the central section of the nation with strong winds, heavy, wet snow, sleet and rain.

In Michigan, three children burned to death on a farm near Ithaca after firemen battled through snow for two hours to reach the blaze. At Russellton, Pa., a mine foreman was electrocuted by a high tension wire which fell on his parked automobile. In Clarkburg, W. Va., a city councilman was killed when a tree fell on a taxicab in which he was riding. Two Tennesseans were killed when they touched high voltage power lines blown loose by the storm, and a Chicago power lineman died repairing a wire.

Lashing winds accompanied by rain, sleet and snow, swept Michigan and Saginaw Bay cottage residents watched nervously as 40-foot Lake Huron ice floes ground inland and began crushing an amusement park at Wenonah Beach, near Bay City. The floes were blown inshore by winds reaching a velocity, at times, of 75 miles an hour.

Cities Paralyzed

Damage throughout the state was expected to be high as the storm paralyzed many of Michigan's largest cities.

The heaviest blanket of snow was in the Midwest. The wind storm covered a wider section, extending into the east and parts of the south. Many sections reported rain, hail and sleet.

As winter scenes of snow and below freezing temperatures returned to the Midwest, federal forecasters said the snow storm had abated and was moving northeastward across Lake Erie up the St. Lawrence valley.

85-Mile Gales

However, the middle and southern Atlantic seaboard continued to enjoy comparatively mild temperatures while similar weather was reported along the Pacific coast. San Diego, Calif., reported a high yesterday of 79.1, the hottest March 24 since 1896.

West Virginia and western Pennsylvania reported winds as high as 60 miles an hour which disrupted telephone service and smashed plate glass windows in downtown establishments. Power lines were blown down in Huntington, W. Va., while in Milwaukee 23 long distance telephone circuits were disrupted by the heavy, wet snow.

Winds of 60 miles an hour swept across Tennessee and two men were killed when they came in contact with high voltage power lines. In Chicago a power lineman died while repairing a wire atop a pole. In Nashville, Tenn., temperature dropped 18 degrees as the wind reached a velocity of 70 MPH and gusts of 85 MPH.

REPORT WIND DAMAGE HERE

Today's high wind, which reached almost gale proportions, damaged telephone lines in various parts of the county, blew down numerous signs, ripped a large section of the tarpaper roof from a house on the Lincoln highway three miles east of Gettysburg, and caused other minor damage.

Between 20 and 25 telephones on rural lines were out of order as the result of poles carrying the lines being blown down. The United Telephone company said. One pole was blown down on the Emmitsburg road, another on the Lincoln highway and one at Biglerville, the company said. Repairs were being made.

A recently-constructed corn crib at the Panorama Inn, south of Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg road was blown over early today.

The Metropolitan Edison company said that only minor wind damage had been reported to its office here. The Adams County Electric Co-operative reported no trouble.

The high wind was accompanied by a drop in the temperature and sent residents scurrying for topcoats again, after the mild spring weather of Monday. Pedestrians were almost blown off their feet in Center Square.

Rev. Hunt's Brother Is Critically Ill

The Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has been called to Chicago by the critical illness of his eldest brother, Kenneth Hunt. The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt left Gettysburg Saturday night enroute to Chicago. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover of the seminary was the guest preacher in the Presbyterian church at the Sunday morning service.

The mid-week Lenten service which was scheduled for Wednesday evening will be omitted and a meeting of the church Session called for 8:30 p. m., Wednesday, has been postponed.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy, windy and colder with snow flurries in the mountains tonight. Wednesday fair and moderately cold.

FREEDOM MAY OPERATE TWO GRADE SCHOOLS

The possibility of maintaining two schools in Freedom township despite the fact that it has only enough students for 1.7 schools was discussed Monday evening by the Freedom township board with the Adams county school board at a meeting of the county board at the court house.

Freedom was described as one of three township boards in the county which will probably have to make the most changes to meet the new requirements for schools provided under Act 403 of the state legislature which goes into effect next year. The other two are Latimore and Union.

At present the township has three schools and a total of 51 students, members of the board pointed out. All members of the Freedom township board, Hugh H. Adelsberger, Fairfield R. 2; Mervin B. Bishop, Gettysburg R. 2; Raymond S. Scott, Gettysburg R. 2; Guy T. Gordon, Fairfield R. 2, and Sterling Stultz, Fairfield R. 2, were present for the session.

Adopt 30-Pupil Unit

Under Act 403, Dr. Robert A. Brieem, assistant county superintendent of schools, explained, all reimbursement will be based on units of 30 pupils and all one-room schools will be closed unless there are reasons acceptable to the state council of education to keep them open. Under the new law, he said, Freedom, and similar townships, would have the choice of keeping all schools open with the entire cost of teachers and maintenance of the extra schools placed on the township, or of transporting the students to central educational institutions in compliance with the law in which case the township would be reimbursed from state funds.

While not definitely a part of the law, the state council has intimated that it will permit one room schools with 30 students to be counted as units for the coming year, Brieem added. He suggested as a possible solution, the closing of one school and the grading of the other two schools in Freedom township.

May Have 2 Schools

Doctor Brieem said that the township board could divide its eight grades into two schools, four grades in one school and the other four grades in another school. The township could transport the pupils to these two schools and the entire

Snow Fences Down;
Sure Spring Sign

Robins, the vernal equinox, groundhog prognostications and similar signs that spring is here have sometimes proven false but the final authoritative word on whether spring is here was noticed today:

The state highway department was taking the snow fences down throughout the county. The plan is, according to Superintendent J. William Kendeheart, for all to be removed by April 1.

Meantime, whether in warning or farewell, banks of snow are still to be found left over from the February blizzard in shady spots along country roads in the county.

REBERT CITES
$45,000 LOSS
IN NEW JAIL

Quintin D. Rebert, Adams county commissioner, in a display advertisement appearing in today's edition of The Gettysburg Times, declares he is "still opposed to the building of the Adams county jail at this time." He first voiced public opposition to building a new jail some time ago.

Bids for the construction of the proposed new jail are scheduled to be opened by the county commissioners on Wednesday.

Mr. Rebert also states in his advertisement "recent complaints of the Sheriff that there is immediate danger of the jail wall falling have not been based on concrete facts yet called to my attention. The County Commissioners have not yet called in any mason or contractor to examine the wall and report on its present condition."

Cites $45,000 Loss

Mr. Rebert also states in his advertisement that three "disinterested and conservative citizens of the county, one of whom is a building contractor of long experience, have examined the wall and have stated that there is no danger of the wall falling at this time."

The advertisement also quotes the building contractor as stating: "When, if ever that wall falls, it must fall outward and there will be no danger to the occupants of the jail yard."

Concluding his statement Mr. Rebert says:

"I am making this statement at this time in order to make it perfectly clear to the taxpayers of Adams county that I have been consistently opposed to wasting the sum of at least $45,000 which will be lost by building at this time. If concrete proof of real danger of the wall falling were presented to me, I would still be in favor of spending a few hundred dollars to repair it for the time being, rather than to waste the thousands of dollars that will be wasted on high building and labor costs of inferior quality."

MUSIC LOVERS THRILLED WITH FINAL CONCERT

Members of the Gettysburg Concert Association were afforded the opportunity Monday evening to hear not only one of the world's great concert violinists in Henry Temianka but to listen to the music which this artist drew forth from one of the world's greatest violins, a Stradavarius used by Paganini.

The Temianka concert, which filled Brus chapel on the college campus to its capacity, was the third and concluding one in the winter series sponsored by the local association.

Master of Bow

Temianka's announcement, at the opening of the concert, that he would use the Paganini violin, drew instant and sustained applause from the large audience, which recognized what was in store for it. The rare violin has been in the hands of collectors since Paganini's death, and has seldom been taken from the vaults in which it has been kept.

The numbers selected by Temianka for his concert were not only delightfully entertaining, but they reflected his complete mastery of the bow, and his ability to draw from the instrument all of its fine tonal qualities.

The program opened with "La Folia," a 17th century composition by Arcangelo Corelli. The latter was the first to evolve a system of bowing and to introduce chord playing, and this number gave Temianka an excellent opportunity to display all his great skill in both. For his second number Temianka played variations on a theme by Corelli, written by Giuseppe Tartini, a distinguished composer of the Italian school of the 17th and 18th centuries.

Fine Technique

Three movements from Edouard Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole," the Allegro non troppo, the andante and the Rondo followed on the program. The latter was particularly fine. It uses a Basque folk-tune called "El Platero" (The Silversmith) and brought out the fine technique of the accompanist, Arthur Hollander.

Mr. Hollander almost "stole the show" himself in his piano numbers presented immediately after the intermission. He chose for his first two numbers, "Fantasie Impromptu," by Chopin, and "Clair de Lune," by Debussy. His decision to play these instead of the two numbers scheduled

Files Answer In Suit For Damages

A separate answer by Clyde W. Musselman, one of the defendants in an action in trespass started last December 30, was filed Monday afternoon with the county prothonotary by Bulleit and Bulleit, attorneys for Musselman.

In the action, George, Elizabeth, and Loretta Sanders, Jennie Motter and Mary Bowman, all of Emmitsburg, are seeking damages from Musselman and the Green Springs Dairy, Baltimore, as a result of an auto accident near Zora last year.

In his answer, Musselman agrees that he was driving a car in which the Emmitsburg residents were occupants and that the car crashed into the rear of the Green Springs dairy truck which was parked on a highway. He denies that he owns the car, which he says is owned by his father, Ralph V. Musselman, Fairfield R. 2, and denies that he was driving in a reckless or negligent manner. He claims however that the Green Springs Dairy truck was parked on the highway in such a manner that the accident was unavoidable by any action on his part.

COUNTIAN BADLY HURT IN CRASH;
TRUCKER IS HELD

Buddy H. Rupp, 21, Aspers R. 1, was reported in a serious condition this afternoon at the Warner hospital as a result of injuries received in an auto accident one-half mile south of Biglerville on the Gettysburg road Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The hospital reported that Rupp was suffering from extreme shock and that he has a possible fracture of the collarbone, a possible fracture of some ribs, a possible collapse of a lung as a result of possible punctures of the lungs by the broken ribs, a possible puncture of the liver and laceration of the chin. Pending study of x-rays and other examinations no final statement could be made on his condition.

State Policeman George J. Evanko, who investigated said Rupp was traveling south when his car was struck by a north-bound truck driven by Lester H. Murtoff, 39, Gardners.

Drunken Driving Charged

Skidmarks appeared to show that Rupp had possibly attempted to stop before the collision. The right side of his car was damaged, with the side pushed in at the middle of the car. Evanko speculated that Rupp must have been thrown to the left side of the car and partially through the door to have escaped being completely crushed under the collapsing side of the vehicle. Damage to the Rupp car was set at $700 and to the truck, $300.

A charge of drunken driving was placed against Murtoff by Policeman Evanko before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. Murtoff posted $500 bond to appear for a hearing Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Emerson Orner, Benderville, who passed the scene in his car shortly after the accident occurred, brought Rupp to the hospital here. Rupp was said to have not lost consciousness at any time.

Investigation into the accident is being continued.

Says Russia Is 'Very Near'
To Developing Atom Bomb

Editor's note: The account of a German physicist on atomic research in Russia told in the following dispatch is known to British-American military authorities. The scientist declared he "feared the result" if he was publicly identified by name.

By RICHARD O'REGAN
Neustadt, Germany, March 25 (AP)—A German atom scientist, who said he recently "escaped" from a Russian government laboratory in Moscow, asserted today that the Soviet Union is "very near" to developing an atom bomb.

Lifting the curtain on what he described as Russia's "all out" attempts to match—perhaps better—America's mighty secret, the nuclear physicist said in an interview:

"From what I have seen, I believe Russia will have a bomb similar to the United States within three to five years."

Russia's efforts to harness the atom are "relentless," the scientist declared.

"Her scientists are sweating blood and night."

The scientist said he had returned to Germany "at the risk of his life" and asserted he hoped to go to the United States soon.

Insisting that he must not be identified by name, the German professor said some of the "secrets" of Russian atomic research were:

(1) "At least 200 German scientists and technicians, including some of Germany's foremost nuclear physicists, are working for the Russian government in a virtual paradise on problems of nuclear fission."

(2) More "recruits" are being sought in all zones in Germany, including the American and particularly the Russian. "By Russian officers and by Germans sent back to convince former colleagues a paradise is awaiting them."

(3) The German scientists have everything they need for their research—and are treated equally, if not better than Russian physicists. "They work in Moscow, in the great spaces of Southern Russia and in Siberia, beyond the Urals."

(4) Rare German cyclotrons and other high-voltage equipment used in atomic and radiation experiments "have been moved from the Russian zone of Germany to the Soviet Union."

(5) Some 12,000 engineers and miners, Russian and German, are hunting pitchblende—the source of uranium—in utmost secrecy in Russian-occupied Germany. "If they escape and are caught—they are punished in the Russian way," he said.

Charges Court With 'Serious
Error' In Trial Of Johnsons

Philadelphia, March 25 (AP)—Defense Attorney Charles J. Margiotti told the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today that a "very serious error" was committed by the presiding judge at the trial of former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson and six others.

That error, Margiotti declared, occurred when Federal District Judge James Alger Fee told a jury "The government has proved a number of overt acts" during the trial at Harrisburg.

Former Judge Johnson and his son, Capt. Albert W. Johnson, Jr., were acquitted yesterday of conspiracy to defraud the government in proceedings before the Middle Pennsylvania District Court over which Johnson presided for more than 20 years.

Two other Johnson sons—Donald M. and Miller A.—and John Memolo and Jacob Greens were convicted of the same charges. Sentences of two years imprisonment and $10,000 fines each were assessed and bail denied.

Defense counsel went before Circuit Court in a fight to bar removal to federal prison of the four convicted pending action of appeals.

During lengthy argument before Circuit Court, Margiotti said concerning Judge Fee's statement: "It is our contention that the government did not prove any such overt acts within the three-year statutory period prior to the indictment in the case."

The attorney also declared that Judge Fee presided over the 22-day trial in a "very unusual manner." The jurist, Margiotti added, "has a way of his own in the courtroom."

The attorney asserted he feels no fraud was proved by the prosecution in foreclosure sale of the Williamsport Wire Rope company to Bethlehem Steel company—one of the cases cited in the indictment.

Margiotti said it was called to his attention that one juror shortly after the trial started made a motion "as though to say to government attorneys 'take me.' I propose to find more out about that juror."

Pleading before Judge Fee for release of the two Johnsons on bail, Margiotti declared it would be unjust to keep them in jail pending determination of appeals.

Judge Fee, however, asserted the defendants had received a fair and impartial trial and that it was his "public obligation" to impose sentence immediately and see that it was carried out.

The four convicted men are now in Dauphin county jail pending designation by U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark of the federal institution in which they will serve sentence.

ADAMS SIXTH IN EGG PRODUCTION

Adams county ranked sixth in 1944 among the 11 leading Pennsylvania counties in the production of eggs, and 58th among all the counties in the United States, according to figures from the 1945 Census of Agriculture issued by Director J. C. Capt. Bureau of Census. The county produced 4,625,108 dozens of eggs in 1944, the statistics reveal.

Lancaster county, which led all Pennsylvania counties in egg production, was second in national rank and York county, second in the state, was fourth in the nation, the figures show. Bucks, Berks and Montgomery counties also led Adams, but Franklin, Chester, Northumberland, Bradford and Butler counties, trailed among the 11 high producers.

The 11 Pennsylvania counties in 1944 produced 81,792,339 dozen chicken eggs, about 47 per cent of the state total of 173,788,940 dozen. The 1944 Pennsylvania egg production was about five per cent of the national total of 3,370,069,577 dozen eggs.

LONG WITHHELD WARTIME PACTS ARE DISCLOSED

Washington, March 25 (AP)—A score of long suppressed clauses of the Tehran, Yalta and Potsdam agreements were spread on the record today with an official promise that they were the last of the secrets from the war-time meetings of the Allied Big Three.

The official texts published by the State Department included disclosure of an agreement at Tehran by President Roosevelt, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill favoring Turkey's entry into the war against the Axis before the end of 1943.

Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday that Turkey's neutrality aided the Allied cause by barring the way to Axis expansion into the Middle East.

Pledge By Stalin
The Tehran "military conclusions" spoke of forthcoming negotiations to bring Turkey into the war but left unanswered whether the Turks actually were pressed at the time to join the Allies. They eventually did declare a state of war with Germany and Japan effective March 1, 1945, less than three months before V-E Day.

Also at Tehran, the agreement disclosed, Stalin pledged that should Turkey become a foe of Germany and as a result be attacked by Bulgaria, Russia would declare war on Bulgaria.

The State Department published the official texts at the direction of Acheson, who agreed to the action at last week's hearings in the House Foreign Relations Committee on the proposal for $400,000,000 of aid to Greece and Turkey.

Committee members did not raise any questions about the Cairo, Casablanca and Quebec conferences which Stalin did not attend.

Other Secrets Told
Aside from the Tehran military conclusions, sections whose texts had not been previously published included:

1. A Yalta conference agreement tentatively fixing German reparations at $20,000,000,000 and authorizing payment from current production and use of German manpower. This was disclosed at Moscow last week by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov. The United States and Britain have contended that the Yalta plan was superseded at Potsdam.

2. The Potsdam agreement to divide ships of the German navy and merchant fleet equally among Russia, Britain and the United States.

3. A Potsdam agreement that the Montreux convention governing Turkey's control of the Black sea straits should be revised "as falling to meet present-day conditions." Each of the Big Three powers was authorized to carry on direct conversations with Turkey on the issue. Soviet Russia's demands have since met with firm U. S. and British opposition.

4. A Potsdam agreement that no reparations should be exacted from Austria. This was cited yesterday at Moscow where Russia supported a Yugoslav claim on Austria for a $150,000,000 payment.

Mrs. Bernice Cara Donna, New Bedford, Mass., was held in $1,000 bail by U. S. Commissioner J. Norman Griffin for a further hearing Thursday.

The government charges she married bigamously spouses No. 3, 4 and 5—Army Pvt. Monte Thompson, Marine Sgt. Arthur Wiles and Navy Seaman Rodney Orelino, respectively—and collected about $1,000 in servicemen's allotment checks.

FBI agents said she divorced Chauncey Mauray, her first husband, then was wed to Nicholas Carra Donna in Boston—and legally still is.

Hubby No. 6, Paul N. Schwartz of Leighton, Pa., an engineer and navy veteran, told Griffin he wants to help her.

Hotel Blaze Is Handled Calmly

Charleston, W. Va., March 25 (AP)—Fire broke out in a kitchen grease vent at the Daniel Boone hotel early today and flames were fanned upward 10 stories in the metal shaft before being extinguished.

Telephone operators quietly informed the 370 guests what was happening, telling them they could remain in their rooms or leave by way of the elevators. There was no panic. Manager Roger Creel estimated the damage at "less than $1,000," and said most of it resulted from the necessity of cutting holes into the walls of several rooms to reach the pipe, and from water spray.

BULLETINS

Moscow, March 25 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall urged in the Foreign Nations council tonight that all nations which declared war on Germany participate in the final peace settlement.

The Marshall recommendation was made as the ministers took up discussion of procedure for the German peace conference.

Washington, March 25 (AP)—AFL President William Green said today that outlawing the Communist party would help spread Communism.

Green testified before the House committee on un-American activities, whose members have been stirred up by testimony from former ambassador William C. Bullitt that Russia definitely intends to "assault" and "conquer" the United States.

Washington, March 25 (AP)—Russia has notified the United States that she is ready to take "appropriate steps" to carry out an agreement to give China the controls of the Manchurian port of Dairen, the state department announced today.

The Soviet notification was in response to an American note to Moscow and Nanjing expressing hope that the "current unsatisfactory situation" at Dairen could be settled soon.

BREEDERS' UNIT MEETS TONIGHT

Directors of the recently-formed artificial breeding association of Adams county will meet in the county extension office, court house, at 7:30 tonight to choose a permanent name for the organization and plan its incorporation.

The association was formed at a meeting of dairymen on March 17, with Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin, chairman of the board; Howard Waybright, Gettysburg R. 4, secretary, and G. L. Hartman, Aspers R. 1, treasurer. Other directors are Arthur Ebbert, Biglerville, and Edgar Leer, York Springs.

Directors of the Adams county Dairy Herd Improvement association met Monday night at the court house to discuss the possibility of employing a part time tester in addition to Charles Klinger, the regular cow tester now employed by the association, and to discuss coming year's business. The association's year begins April 1.

More applications for cow-testing have been received than can be handled by the present cow tester, who works 29 days out of each month. M. T. Hartman, county extension agent, said.

Joseph Stoner, president of the association, presided at Monday night's meeting. No definite decisions were reached. Mr. Hartman said.

CREW SURVIVED CRASH OF C-54

Westover Field, Mass., March 25 (AP)—All nine persons aboard an Army C-54 transport which crashed Sunday on a Newfoundland plateau are alive and only one was injured. The Army reported today.

The one injured man has been flown by helicopter to Harmon Field, near the crash scene, and the other survivors will be flown to Harmon Field in relays because of rough terrain which prevents full loading of the rescue plane.

Public Relations Officer Capt. Theodore Wood identified the injured crewman as radioman S/Sgt. William Brotzman, stationed at Warner Robins Field, Macon, Ga.

Capt. Wood said Brotzman was loaded aboard the helicopter in a litter but that Harmon Field hospital reported he was not seriously injured.

As the plane circled for its rescue mission, ground crews labored to reach a 1,500 foot high plateau 25 miles south of Stephenville, Newfoundland.

WIFE BLOCKS GIFT OF EYE

New York, March 25 (AP)—Supporting the protest of the convicted man's wife, Judge Samuel Leibowitz has declined to permit Joseph Ross, convicted Brooklyn auto thief, to give up one of his eyes to a 14-year-old blind girl.

"I believe it is against God's will and against the welfare of my children," Mrs. Ross told the judge yesterday. "To the little blind girl it might mean a great deal. But he's my husband."

"I expect my husband to come back from prison to support us," Gloria Garrity, talented pianist, said she could not accept Ross' offer of an eye in view of his wife's objection.

Judge Leibowitz, sentencing Ross to serve two and one-half to five years in Sing Sing prison, questioned the sincerity of the offer and said Ross had "not treated his own wife and children with any of the sacrificial affection he advertises for the object of his offer."

Two More Victims Of Fire Expire

St. Marys, Pa., March 25 (AP)—The death of two more members of the Andrew Meyer family brought to four today the toll from a fire which destroyed the Meyer home. The latest victims were Meyer, 36, and a daughter, Marjorie, 8.

Mrs. Meyer, 34, and two-year-old Dorothy burned to death in the fire yesterday. The flames were believed started by kerosene thrown on the kitchen fire to speed it up. The fuel exploded and the blaze quickly enveloped the house.

Three more children of the Meyers were still hospitalized today. Laverne, 14, was reported critical, and Geraldine, 13, serious. Sandra, 18 months old, received lesser burns. Three of the couple's eight children escaped.

Tokyo, March 25 (AP)—The government's agriculture and forestry department reported gloomily today that 1947 goldfish production will be off 90 per cent from the high mark set in 1939, when 33,000,000 were spawned. That means there will be only a few left for export when domestic demands are met. There's still gold in the business, however; prices have increased as much as 1,000 per cent.

CHIMNEY FIRE
The Gettysburg fire company was called at 11:45 o'clock this morning to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of William Dillman, 225 South Washington street. There was no damage.

the district attending the international Boy Scout meeting in France this summer was discussed. The possibility of conducting a finance drive to raise money to send one local boy to be among the 1,000 scouts from the U. MUSIC LOVERS

Used on the printed programs was hailed with applause from the audience.

Responds To Encores

For his third number, Mr. Holmlander gave a masterful rendition of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 10," and was recalled for two encores. Alec Templeton's "Mozart Matriculates," and Copland's "The Cat and the Mouse."

The soul of the Jewish race was expressed in Temianka's next violin number, "Nigun," the work of Ernest Bloch, foremost living exponent of modern Hebrew music. "Nigun" is from the "Baal Shem Suite," for violin.

The perennial favorite, "Caprice Viennois," by Fritz Kreisler, proved to be one of the most popular numbers on the program, and Temianka closed his regularly scheduled numbers with "Habanera" by Pablo Sarasate, famous Spanish violinist and composer. The "Habanera" is a Spanish song and dance of ancient origin, and was superbly presented by Mr. Temianka.

Played With Symphony

The violinist and his accompanist were recalled time and time again, and graciously consented to give three encores, the first two by Kreisler, "Schon Rosmarin," and "Rondino," and the last, by request, the "Caprice No. 22," by Paganini, a number which the artist said must have been played many times by Paganini on the same violin which Temianka was using.

Mr. Temianka played Sunday night with the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, and has played with many outstanding symphony orchestras in both the United States and Europe.

FREEDOM MAY

plan would be recognized by the state as one two-room school, although the township would be operating two schools. The cost would range from $1,500 to $2,000 per year less than the cost of operating three schools. High school pupils' transportation would be paid by the state.

When the Freedom township board decides what plan it will adopt it will be forwarded to the county for submission to the state council of education for final approval.

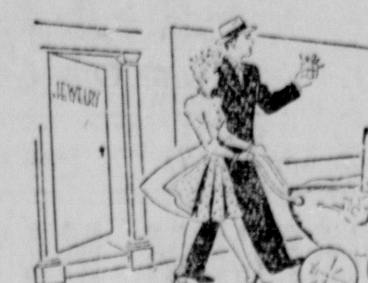

Freedom is one of 13 districts in Adams county which will have to fill out forms for the state department explaining their one-room set up of schools, and student membership in the schools, the county board decided after a study of student populations.

Others Involved

The other townships which will have to report plans to the state council this year are Butler, Cumberland, Germany, Hamilton, Hamiltonban, Highland, Huntington, Latimore, Mt. Joy, Mt. Pleasant, Tyrone and Union.

Under the present set-up the county board must approve or disapprove all plans of the townships to meet the changes required by the new law. President Luther E. Jacobs pointed out, before the plans are sent to the state council of education for final approval. He and other members of the board discussed the possibility of setting up some standards for judging the plans of the township boards but decided that each would have to be decided individually.

Two motion pictures, "Food For Freedom" and "Making Tractor History," were shown by Richard C. Eigher, head of the GI agricultural instruction set-up in the county, in a demonstration of new equipment bought for the veteran classes. He showed a motion picture projector, an opaque projector and a film strip projector.

Announcement

I am still opposed to the building of the Adams county jail at this time. The recent complaints of the Sheriff that there is immediate danger of the jail wall falling have not been based on concrete facts yet called to my attention. The County Commissioners have not yet called in any mason or contractor to examine the wall and report on its present condition. Three disinterested and conservative citizens of the county, one of whom is a building contractor of long experience have examined the wall and have stated that there is no danger of the wall falling at this time. Further, the building contractor stated, "When, if ever that wall falls, it must fall outward and there will be no danger to the occupants of the jail yard."

I am making this statement at this time in order to make it perfectly clear to the taxpayers of Adams county that I have been consistently opposed to wasting the sum of at least $15,000.00, which will be lost by building at this time. If concrete proof of real danger of the wall falling were presented to me, I would still be in favor of spending a few hundred dollars to repair it for the time being, rather than to waste the thousands of dollars that will be wasted on high building and labor costs of inferior quality.

County Commissioner

UTAH DEFEATS KENTUCKY; MAY STAGE PLAYOFF

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, March 25 (AP)—Utah University's spunky cagers held the championship of the National Invitation Basketball tournament today as Oklahoma and Holy Cross prepared to take the floor at Madison Square Garden tonight in the NCAA East-West finals—and the possibility of a playoff between the two titlists was still alive.

Coach Vadal Peterson's Utah Redskins, who came into the invitation tournament without the prestige of a seeding, won the title last night by turning back the heavily-favored defending champions from Kentucky university, 49-45, before an approving crowd of 18,468.

Oklahoma Vs. Holy Cross
Oklahoma, which won the Western Regional NCAA playoffs by beating Texas in the finals, and Holy Cross, conqueror of City College of New York in the Eastern Regional finals, meet in the second game of tonight's program. Texas and City College collide in the consolation bout at 7:45 p. m. (EST).

The Oklahomans are determined to end their season tonight, win lose or draw, but Coach Doggie Julapi of Holy Cross is agreeable to a meeting with Utah for the mythical national championship if his team wins and the game can be arranged for Thursday night, an open date at Madison Square Garden.

Training Camp Briefs

Miami, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Jerry White, regarded by many as their apparent to the American league's home run championship that was vacated when the Detroit Tigers sold Hank Greenberg, king of the round-trip wallpapers, to the Pittsburgh Pirates, is beginning to find the four-base range.

The 29-year-old first sacker, who wound up the American league campaign with the Browns last year after clouting 46 homers in the regular season and three in the American association's all-star game while playing for Toledo, has hammered four balls out of the lot for the Browns so far, including two against the Brooklyn Dodgers' "B" team yesterday.

Sarasota, Fla., March 25 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals did not employ the "Dyer Shift" against Ted Williams as they did against the Boston Red Sox slugger in the world series yesterday. However, Williams only managed to draw a walk and single in five trips to the plate as the Red Birds came from behind and beat the Carmine Hose, 6-4.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Venerable St. Johnson, who hasn't pitched for three weeks because of a lingering cold, will get his first chance today when the Boston Braves entertain the Philadelphia Athletics. Big Mort Cooper is expected to follow Johnson to the hill for the Braves while the A's are expected to start rookie Joe Coleman.

Havana, March 25 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers will get another look at Jackie Robinson, negro infielder, when they play their Montreal farm hands today. Robinson, who has been shifted to first base by the Royals, turned in a fine performance against the Brooks in a series of games in Panama recently.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25 (AP)—The New York Yankee regulars will attempt to snap a two game losing streak when they tangle with the Detroit Tigers today. The Yanks have dropped 3-0 and 8-5 decisions to the St. Louis Cards and Cincinnati Reds respectively while the "B" squad now has won four straight games, including a 16-3 win over Syracuse yesterday that was featured by two home runs by rookie outfielder Cliff Mape.

Hansell Is Named Track Coach At PMC

Chester, Pa., March 25 (AP)—Pennsylvania Military college announces the appointment of Howard Sipler as baseball coach and George Hansell as track mentor.

Additionally, PMC said Edmund Cramp and Bill Nurnthorn were named assistant football coaches and Wes Smith coach of the freshman grid squad.

Hansell is a former Dickinson college star, while Sipler previously coached at Swarthmore, Cramp, Nurnthorn and Smith are all PMC graduates.

Penn State Boxers Go To Championships

State College, Pa., March 25 (AP)—Two eastern intercollegiate boxing champions and a runner-up will represent Penn State in the National Collegiate Boxing Championships at Madison, Wis., this week-end.

The Lion entries are Captain Jackie Tighe, 165, Scranton, Pa., Glenn Hawthorne, 130, Sligo, Pa., both eastern titlists, and Jim Cassidy, 145, Laurel Gardens, Pa.

There are about 120,000,000 sheep in Australia.

Independent Fives Reach Semi-Finals

Brookville, Pa., March 25 (AP)—Brookville YMCA, the Butler Betres Vikings and the New Kensington Eagles won their games in the Northwestern Pennsylvania Independent basketball tournament last night, thus reaching the semifinal round to be played tomorrow night.

Scores were as follows: Brookville "Y" 49, Clarion Shores 45; Butler Betres Vikings 66; Falls Creek Eagles 54; New Kingston Eagles 74; Somerville Firemen 59.

The fourth team in the semifinals will be the New Kingston Moose who on Saturday downed the Kane Moose, 46-39.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, March 25 (AP)—After this season's experiences, baseball magnates may decide that the place to train for the great American pastime (or national game, pick your league) is in the United States.

While the Yankees got some nice guarantees for their jaunt to Panama and South America, expenses took all the dough; the Dodgers didn't make out any too well in Cuba and the Giants and San Francisco Seals have decided not to try Hawaii again although Paul Fagan, part owner of the San Francisco club, is eager to publicize his part of that island paradise. . . . Seems that Fagan's place on Maui island is a bit too far from Honolulu to attract the crowds. . . . The Texas and Oklahoma basketball teams, western winners in the NCAA basketball tourney, both were making their third appearances in the event when they clashed at Kansas City Saturday. On each previous occasion, the winner between those two has gone on to take the national title.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Charley Tatom, a 210-pound tackle, has won a spot on the speedy Texas U. quarter-mile relay team that may be hard on the record attempts but it looks good for Longhorn football. Tatom used to play end at the Naval academy. . . . That proposed playoff game between the NCAA and invitation basketball tournament winners probably is out because Oklahoma, which figures to take the NCAA crown, won't be allowed to play. . . . Wisconsin athletic authorities figure on drawing at least 40,000 customers to the intercollegiate boxing tournament this week-end with three evening sessions and one afternoon.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Warning to all bass in Green Bay, Wis., and vicinity: George Strickler, who couldn't do much fishing while he was in New York beating the National Football league drums, is heading for Green Bay to become assistant general manager and public relations director. . . . He's a good man with a plug, either on the end of a fishing rod or in a type-writer.

BASEBALL LOOP HOLDS MEETING

The regular meeting of the Pennsylvania Baseball league was held last Thursday evening in the Firemen's Hall, Taneytown. The meeting was called to order by the president, Ralph Coe, at 8:30 p. m., with eight teams present.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read. Mr. Cauliflower, representing Middleburg, Md., reported the team will remain in the league.

It was moved that all league games start at 2 p. m.

A motion was made by Fern Hitchcock that all managers have their roster in by April 30, two weeks before the opening of the league and that two copies be sent to the secretary.

It was decided to invite several sports reporters to the next regular meeting.

A motion was made that the winning team be awarded a pennant and each player be given gold baseballs and the second team be given silver baseballs.

It was decided that the last three games of the playoff money be pooled and the winner be given 60 per cent and the loser 40 per cent.

The next meeting will be held on April 3, at Taneytown.

Hershey Seeks Fourth In Row

(By The Associated Press)

The Hershey Bears will attempt to make it four wins in a row and qualify for a final round berth in the American hockey league's Calder cup playoffs tonight when they entertain the Cleveland Barons.

Winners of the Eastern Division pennant by a comfortable margin, the Bears have hung three straight defeats on the Ohio puckchasers and one more victory will knock the Western Division pennant winning Barons out of the post-season struggle.

If Hershey fails to knock the Barons out of the best-four-out-of-seven set tonight the series will move to Cleveland for the fifth game Thursday. If the series is forced to go the limit, the sixth game will be staged at Hershey and the seventh at Cleveland.

Bisons, the other semi-final round playoff gets underway in Pittsburgh with the third place Western Division Hornets entertaining the runner-up Buffalo Bisons in a best two-out-of-three series.

The Bisons reached the semifinals by winning two straight games from the Eastern Division's second place Springfield Indians, while the Hornets took two-out-of-three games from the Eastern's third place New Haven Ramblers.

Following their game in Pittsburgh tonight the series will shift to Buffalo for the remaining games on Thursday and Sunday nights.

Bowling Tourney Entries Set Record

Lancaster, Pa., March 25 (AP)—I. Richard Herr, tournament manager for the 8th annual Pennsylvania state bowling championships, to be held at the Overlook recreation here beginning April 12, said today a record breaking field of bowlers will compete in the title event.

Entries closed with the mail of midnight Saturday. Herr notified Secretary Joe Appel in Philadelphia that at least 450 teams will be seeking the laurels in three different team divisions.

Herr estimated approximately 2,200 bowlers will visit Lancaster to roll in the different divisions. He predicted that at least 20,000 games, or nine to a man, will be rolled during the week-ends of the tournament, which is scheduled to close on May 11.

New Bullet Football Foe Lists 8 Games

Canton, N. Y., March 25—St. Lawrence university's football team will renew two Western New York rivalries next fall, according to an eight-game schedule released by Athletic Director Roy B. Clogston here today. Alfred and Buffalo Universities come back on the schedule and the Larries also meet Gettysburg college for the first time in their gridiron history.

The invasion of Pennsylvania to meet the Gettysburg eleven will be the second time a St. Lawrence football team has traveled to the Keystone State. In their only previous trip the Larries were defeated by Muhlenberg, 18-6, in 1937.

The schedule: Sept. 27—Union; Oct. 4—Alfred at Alfred (night); Oct. 11—Ithaca; Oct. 18—Clarkson at Potsdam; Oct. 25—Middlebury at Middlebury, Vt.; Nov. 1—Cortland; Nov. 8—Buffalo at Buffalo; Nov. 15—Gettysburg at Gettysburg, Pa.

PROBE SHIFTED TO PITTSBURGH

Sarasota, Fla., March 25 (AP)—The investigation into "who said something insulting about whom, if anything," which is creating major league baseball's current tempest, has been continued until Friday and shifted to St. Petersburg by Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Chandler continued the hearing after one of the principals, President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers, failed to appear, being called to Ohio by the death of his wife's brother, John Moulton. Rickey's chief opponent, Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees, was on hand, however, to present his case.

Five-Hour Session

The hearing, heralded as baseball's spring housecleaning session, droned on for five hours yesterday as the lesser men involved in the case reported to Chandler on their knowledge of the affair which stems reportedly from remarks made by Durocher and Rickey unflattering to MacPhail.

Leo Durocher, manager of the Dodgers who had just left his movie actress bride, Laraine Day, in a nearby hotel, spent 45 minutes with Chandler. "Chuck" Drensen, who once worked with Durocher as his lieutenant at Brooklyn and Harold Parrott, the Dodgers' road secretary, were next. Chandler heard them all, including Augie Galan, who played with Brooklyn last year and who is now with Cincinnati.

After the hearing, Chandler was silent on the entire proceeding.

Ingram Promises He Can Get Tough

Baltimore, March 25 (AP)—Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, U.S.N., retired, promised fans of the All America football conference "hard-fought, rough and tough" competition and that as far as gambling is concerned "it is out, Period."

The new commissioner, making a swing of clubs in the loop, met of officials and followers of the Baltimore Colts at a reception with his league aide, Commodore Oliver Kensing. Ingram assured the gathering "I will not tolerate any setups, and you can count on that."

"I can, and if necessary will be, just as tough" as the late Judge Kenesaw Landis "ever was in baseball," warned the former Navy football coach and wartime commander of the Atlantic fleet.

Angott Defeats Cain In Third

Wheeling, W. Va., March 25 (AP)—Former lightweight champion Sammy Angott was another step forward in his quest for the welterweight crown today after scoring a third round technical knockout last night over Sugar Cain of New York before 2,200 fans. Angott scaled 144½ and Cain 140.

Opening up with a savage attack about one minute after the opening bell, Angott floored Cain five times before the New Yorker's seconds tossed in the towel after 2:05 of the third round.

Fulks Is Chosen On All-Star Squad

Philadelphia, March 25 (AP)—Joe Fulks of the Philadelphia Warriors and Bob Feerick of the Washington Capitols were unanimous choices on the 10-member Basketball Association of America squad chosen today by the Philadelphia Writers' Association.

Others named to the squad by the 14 writers and sportscasters were Max Zaslofsky, Chicago Stags; Ernie Calverley, Providence; George Senesky, Philadelphia; Stan Miazek, Detroit; Bones McKinney, Washington; Bob Doll, St. Louis Bombers; Frank Baumholtz, Cleveland; John Logan, St. Louis.

SOUTH KOREA IN NEED OF AID FROM US

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

There's nothing surprising in Undersecretary of State Acheson's statement that the United States must invest funds into putting southern Korea on a sound economic basis—thus adding a third country to Greece and Turkey as needing aid to resist the advance of aggressive Communism.

The point is, of course, that Russia occupies the northern half of Korea and this area contains virtually all the industrial resources of the little country. The Reds have dropped an iron curtain along the dividing line, leaving the agricultural south without access to essentials in the north. The only reason the Soviet forces haven't occupied the southern half is because Uncle Sam's troops are there. Acheson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday that the Russians have blocked any agreement for a unified government. Hence the need of help for the south.

Startling Picture

Strategically Korea is the Greece of eastern Asia. In Russian hands it might be the key to control of most of the vast Far East. As a bulwark for the western democracies it might halt the Communist offensive.

Acheson drew a startling picture of what it would mean to lose Turkey and Greece to Communism when he declared that should there be a "failure of the constitutional system" in these two states, "the effect throughout the whole area, from the Dardanelles to the China sea, would be immediate and, I think, profound."

He added that repercussions would be felt in Iran, Iraq, Palestine, Saudi Arabia, India, Burma, Indonesia, French Indo-China, and—to the west in Europe—in Hungary, Austria, Italy and France.

From the English channel to the China sea—that's how far the strategic Greco-Turkish influence extends. Where this leaves off at the China sea, the influence of Korea takes on and makes itself felt throughout southeast Asia.

UNITED NATIONS FINISHES YEAR

Lake Success, N. Y., March 25 (AP)

—The United States delegation to the United Nations Atomic Energy commission wants to start work now on drafting a treaty for atomic controls, an informed source said today.

This informant, who would not be further identified, said that the U. S. atomic experts would go into the first closed meeting of the working committee of the Atomic commission today (3 p. m. EST) with the firm idea that the delegates should start immediately preparing a treaty.

It was recognized that a long and hard road lay ahead, but the commission is under orders to frame a treaty or convention "in due course" and the Americans were said to be ready to tackle the task immediately.

This was the first anniversary of the formal opening of United Nations activities in the United States. The Security council convened at Hunter college one year ago to take up the Iranian case, which is still on its work sheet but which has been virtually forgotten since Russian troops withdrew from Iran.

The Security council was called to meet today (11 a. m. EST) to try to dispose of the Albanian case. Great Britain has charged Albania with responsibility for mine damage to two British destroyers and the deaths of 44 British sailors in Corfu channel last October 22.

Tiny Baby Winning Its Fight For Life

Uniontown, Pa., March 25 (AP)—The two-pound, 14-ounce daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlow, who now weighs a half-ounce less than when she was born Friday, appeared today to be winning her fight for life.

The tiny infant, who arrived two months ahead of schedule, is living in an incubator and being fed a special formula from a medicine dropper.

The father, an aircraft worker at Detroit, flew home when informed of his daughter's early arrival.

JUDGE TO HEAR BREWERS PLEA

Pittsburgh, March 25 (AP)—Judge William H. McNaughton today prepared to hear arguments on a plea for a temporary injunction against the AFL-Teamsters Union after attorneys for the union rejected a proposal for a two-week truce in western Pennsylvania's five-month jurisdictional beer war.

The injunction is sought by three Pittsburgh brewers who ask the courts to halt picketing of their plants and boycotting of their beer by the teamsters union.

Truce Rejected

At a conference with AFL and CIO officials and brewers yesterday, Judge McNaughton indicated he would be willing to stay his hearing on the injunction during a truce period.

Albert Dietrich, international representative of the teamsters, said the truce was rejected "because the breweries will not maintain the status quo" but "will use the truce as a wedge to beat us and flood the town with their beer."

Regional Director Anthony J. Fedoroff of the CIO said he had adopted a policy of "wait and see."

In the beer war, marked with bombings and beatings, both the CIO and the AFL claim bargaining rights for a group of brewery bottlers.

THANKS—SUNSETS

I have read that the great American painter, Winslow Homer, after he had retired to the New England coast, that he might end his days painting there, looked out upon the magic ocean, noting all its moods, and gave thanks to the sunsets!
How many of us do that? How many of us thank the sunrise, or the display of floating clouds against their background of beautiful blue, or "praise God, from whom all blessings flow" as we stand alone and insignificant in comparison to the wonder and awe of the night sky with its millions of blinking worlds meeting our eye?

Never can I forget as a boy, the thrill of the first dandelions, after the cold blast and snows of Winter.
Now I am just as thrilled at their first golden blooms, and I say:
Thanks for another Springtime!
What a wealth of inward joy and anticipation is hidden behind the simple act of appreciation.

It is so noticeable, among those who have so little, their greater appreciation for the natural gifts of life—and their greater joy from simple things. They are almost always those who see the most in nature. Often the fact comes to me that the poets are the wealthiest people in the world, for they live in a world of beauty, translating it from the dictionary of their hearts.

The river, the sea, the lake, the forest, the mountain ranges—each one an accessory to God's great Cathedral of the Earth. How can anyone revel in such glory without saying from his heart—Thank you!
Like bidding adieu to a beloved friend and saying: Thank you for coming. And how often do we silently say: Thanks be for being?
How often it is the case that we do not appreciate fully the great blessings that are showered upon us until we are deprived of many of them. When we are ill, for example, we go over many of the things that we have missed in life, not recognizing their importance, but that importance looms then! Then it is that the Thank You centre in our consciousness—and linger!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Newsboy"

DUNKING
Dunking, as my grandpa thought,
Is an art that must be taught.
Off he said with solemn face:
"Dunking must be done with grace.
Not with fist-hold, as do some;
Just the finger and the thumb."

"Just as lightly as can be,
In the coffee, milk or tea,
Dip the doughnut once or twice—
More than that will not be nice,
Never swish it round the cup.
To your mouth then bring it up."
"With the doughnut never slop;
It is neither sponge nor mop.
Careful be lest it may slip.
Watchful be lest it may drip.
Vulgar dunking isn't smart.
Done with deftness, it's an art!"

SPOON ORCHIDS ARE IDEAL FOR SUMMER PLANTS

One of the most neglected of summer flowering bulbs are the achimenes, sometimes called nut or spoon orchids, says Daniel O'Neill, writing in the New York Herald Tribune.
Originally natives of Central America, they are ideal plants for New England summers, as they thrive in the heat. They are of easy culture and most prolific bloomers and well repay the care lavished on them.

The little bulbs should be started indoors, sprout end up, any time from February through April, in good soil that has plenty of drainage. They do best in pots, and four or five bulbs in a four or five inch pot make a handsome display.

The bulbs are slow growing, like tuberous begonias, and the beginner should not despair if they seem not to protrude above the soil for some time. They are gross feeders, and the application of liquid manure will repay the gardener in prolific blossoms.

Achimenes come in various shades of lavender, purple, violet, white and cerulean blue. Their blooming period is from June to October. Then the plants should be left to die down and the bulbs turned out and separated and stored in a cool place for the winter. The bulbs multiply rapidly and when brought into a warm room begin to sprout.

They dislike the hot summer sun and do best on a northern exposure.
A row of pots on a northern window-sill, inside or out, is most effective.
If they grow too tall, they may be pinched to induce branching. They sometimes require watering twice daily in the summer, and any dryness during the blooming period will destroy their delicate blossoms.

A group of the lavender shades used with pink semperflorens begonias is an exquisite combination.

Japs Plead 'Not Guilty' On Crimes

Yokohama, March 25 (AP)—Three Japanese war crimes suspects, on trial before U. S. Army tribunal, have pleaded innocent to atrocity charges involving two American prisoners who died as the result of maltreatment.

Allied headquarters' legal section charged that Arthur B. Taylor, San-Francisco, and Clarence A. Gavitt, 35 Wellington street, North East, Pa., died from pneumonia resulting from exposure in a prison camp commanded by one of the defendants.

Sol. E. Brinsfield, of Montgomery, Ala., and Leon L. Greenberg of Latimer street, Philadelphia, are defending the accused.

Muskmelon Culture
Worth All Trouble

Home gardeners usually are eager to obtain a crop of muskmelons from their garden before the local supply becomes available, and do not mind going to some extra trouble to achieve this. The use of waxed paper tents over the outdoor sown crop speeds germination and also keeps insects off the young plants.

Starting the seeds indoors or in the hotbed usually results in failure when transplanting is attempted, even where individual containers are used and extra care is taken to prevent the rootball from falling apart.
However, there is one sure way to overcome this difficulty, and that is by sowing the seeds on upturned pieces of sod taken either from the lawn or meadow. Place them in shallow boxes and separate with pieces of cardboard to prevent the roots from traveling from one place to another.

If carefully removed when outdoor planting time has arrived the roots of the sod will hold the earth together and eliminate any disturbance to the root system itself.

Garden Activities
For Early Spring

Start feeding the lawn. Reseed thin and bare spots. Scatter the seeds evenly at the rate of one pound to each 400 square feet.

Set out lily-of-the-valley clumps now. The tops of the pips should be just even with the ground.

If roses were not planted last fall, get them in the ground as soon as planting conditions are right so they will become well established by the time hot weather arrives. The holes should be large enough to accommodate all the roots without crowding them.

Transplant evergreens when the buds begin to swell.
Give the asparagus bed a dressing of a complete plant food.

Start working the soil in the garden if a lump squeezed in the hand crumbles when dropped from a height of twelve to fifteen inches. If it remains a solid lump, cultivation must be postponed until the soil becomes dryer.

Just before the leaves expand is the best time to rid tall trees and shrubs of the tent caterpillars.
Scrape them off with a stick and drop them in kerosene or burn them.
Trim the privet hedge before it begins to grow.

Repair and paint garden fences and arbors before vines start to make new growth.

Shade choice broad-leaved and other evergreens from the bright sun and strong winds of March.

Early spring is the ideal time to plant fruit trees. Orders should be placed now for delivery at planting time.

If you have facilities to grow vegetables, start indoors tomatoes, eggplants, cauliflower, early cabbage and broccoli.

Magnolias should be transplanted soon.

Flower seeds suitable for indoor sowing now are gaillardia, delphinium, salvia, Vinca rosea, lobelia, dahlia, annual campanula, snap-dragon, verbenia, heliotrope, lantana and torenia.

Pinks Survive Cold
If Not Too Severe

Practically all of the annual pinks offered will live through our winters, if the exposure is not too extreme. Cutting back the tops to within a few inches of the ground will force new shoots from their bases, and these will give a fine display of flowers long before spring-sown plants are ready to bloom.

In addition one may find a large number of volunteer plants where the flowers were permitted to ripen their seeds and disperse them. These are easy to transplant, but it is best to wait until they begin to make new growth in early spring.

CROTON PLANTS REWARDING

Croton used to be much more popular as a houseplant than it is today. Grown in rich soil and kept in the sun, the plants make a splendid display with their brilliantly colored leathery foliage. Small plants are excellent, too, for table decorations. To succeed with them they should be watered freely when in active growth, but kept quite dry during their resting season. Over-watering when in a dormant condition accounts for most failures.

ing for the censorship of books, was

Church in 1501.

PREVENTING COCCIDIOSIS

Coccidiosis remains the most dangerous disease of chicks during the first two months of their lives. The trouble cannot be cured by medicinal dosings. In fact, to date no medicine has been found to curb the disease, much less to cure it. Poultry raisers must point all their efforts against coccidiosis toward one major goal—prevention. Fortunately this is not an unattainable aim; it can be reached by proper feeding, extreme precautions and strict sanitation.

There are at least six forms of tiny organisms (coccidia) known to cause coccidiosis. Symptoms of the disease vary according to the particular form of coccidia causing it.
Of course, the average poultry owner cannot determine among these forms but he can be certain that the same general program of prevention will safeguard his chicks. Too, he can quite safely rely on the accuracy of ruffled feathers, pallor, bloody droppings and diminished appetites among small chicks as signs that coccidiosis in one or more of its forms is present.

To understand the importance of sanitation as a step in preventing coccidiosis from gaining entrance into the flock, owners must observe carefully the main ways by which the minute organisms are transmitted. First, it is not believed possible or likely that coccidiosis is transmitted via the hatching egg. Research indicates that chicks are stricken only after they have taken the organisms into their digestive tracts in drink or feed. In other words, infection occurs perhaps solely by way of the mouth.

Investigations prove that coccidia chick takes into its digestive tract.

All prevention measures should aim to reduce this dangerous intake.

Arab chemists once believed that metals were compound substances made up of mercury and sulphur in different proportions.

It is estimated there is about twice as much nickel in the earth's crust as there is copper, zinc and lead combined.

The government of the Cenfederate States of America was organized at Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 4, 1861.

BILL TO FIRE TEACHERS WHO STRIKE FRAMED

Harrisburg, March 25 (AP)—Striking public employes, including teachers, would be automatically fired and lose all pension and retirement rights under legislation in the general assembly today.

If rehired afterwards, the worker would be prohibited from receiving a salary increase for at least three years and would be subject to a five-year probation without tenure.

Two identical bills, incorporating these provisions, were submitted by Reps. Charles L. Robertson (R-Lackawanna) and Irving S. Dix (R-Wayne).

Considered a striker would be any commonwealth, local municipality or school district employee who "without the lawful approval of his superior fails to report for duty or otherwise absents himself from his position, or abstains in whole or in part from the full, faithful and proper performance of his position."

Other newly introduced House bills would:

Abolish the civil service status of State Liquor Control Board, change the closing time of election polls from 8 to 7 p. m. Paul Naumann, Jr., Edward T. Gallagher, Jr., and S. Harry Myers (R-Phila.).

License and regulate private correspondence schools—Charles L. Robertson (R-Lackawanna).

Amend state insurance laws to conform with recently enacted federal regulations—Samuel O. Kurtz (R-Lebanon).

Abolish the county of Philadelphia as a separate political entity with the city of Philadelphia taking over the vacated county duties—Earl Chudoff and Joseph A. Scanlon (D-Phila.).

Appropriate $60,000 for the erection of new state police barracks at Funksutawney—Samuel B. Dennison (R-Jefferson).

Abolish the sale of food requirement in obtaining restaurant liquor licenses—Alfred V. Efenberg, Paul Naumann, Jr., and Edward T. Gallagher, Jr. (R-Phila.).

Require third class cities to employ paid firemen at the minimum ratio of three to each 1,000 population—Delbert Dalrymple (R-Erie).

Exempt meat packers from the commonwealth's capital stock tax—Ellwood J. Turner (R-Delaware).

Establish a department of correction, replacing the bureau of corrections in the State Welfare Department, to administer state penal institutions—W. Henry Elder (R-Lycoming).

Bans Race Identification
Prohibit newspapers from identifying by race, color or religion any person charged with a crime—Edwin F. Thompson and Lewis M. Mintess (R-Phila.).

A bill proposing establishment of a "little OPA" for control of clothing prices was introduced in the Senate by Sen. H. Jerome Jaspán (D-Phila.). Like previous measures he has introduced to control prices of meat and establish rent controls, prices would be rolled back to levels in effect on June 30, 1946.

Other Senate bills would:
Appropriate $25,000 to a joint legislative committee for expenses to bring the 1948 Republican National convention to Philadelphia—Bertam G. Frazier (R-Phila.).

Appropriate $250,000 for construction of dairy barns and silos at Warren State hospital—Leroy Chapman (R-Warren).

In addition, the Senate adopted unanimously a resolution congratulating the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin on the observance of its 100th anniversary. The resolution was sponsored by two Philadelphia Sena-

Refused Pay Raise, 500 Teachers To Quit

Camden, N. J., March 25 (AP)—Denied a wage increase, Camden's 500 public school teachers overwhelmingly rejected a strike motion but instead voted to appoint a five-man committee to obtain jobs for them in another community.

The decision, made at a meeting sponsored by the Camden Teachers Action Committee, was termed a "show of resentment" against recent action of the Camden board of education in denying a demanded $290 pay boost retroactive to January 1.

Spokesmen for the teachers said the "emergency employment committee" was instructed to seek positions "primarily in other municipalities" but added the resolution "did not limit these efforts to the teaching field."

The starting minimum salary for teachers in Camden is $1,900 a year.

JOBLESS PAY FIGHT NEARS

Harrisburg, March 25 (AP)—The Republican-controlled Senate squared off today for a fight over unemployment compensation with Democrats opposing a measure to make permanent a wartime system of experience rating for contributions to the jobless benefits fund. Republicans claim enough votes to pass it.

"I'm bitterly opposed to any legislation such as this," Sen. John H. Dent, the Democratic floor leader told a reporter in advance of the Senate session (3 p. m.) at which the bill was listed for a vote.

"Experience rating such as this works a hardship on many employers, who, through no fault of their own, can't maintain stable employment levels. These employers are the ones—and there are many of them—who are engaged in seasonal industries."

The bill would make permanent a wartime system under which employers with records of steady employment receive a lower rate for contributions to the jobless benefit fund. The rate varies from one to 2.7 per cent of payrolls, depending upon their employment record.

"Experience rating has worked well during the past four years and there's no reason it shouldn't continue to do so," commented Sen. Frederick L. Homsher (R-Lanaster) the sponsor, who predicted passage of the bill.

COAL CONCERN CONVERTING TO SYNTHETIC FUEL

Pittsburgh, March 25 (AP)—The world's largest coal producer today disclosed plans to convert a 100,000-acre untouched mining tract to the manufacture of coal-distilled gas, high octane gasoline and fuel through a synthetic process still under development.

The Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company said its action is aimed at saving the soft coal industry in western Pennsylvania where production has dropped 33 per cent since 1942 about increasing in the country as a whole.

By drawing new fuels from its decaying western Pennsylvania fields, the company said, it can compete with the rapidly-growing higher quality West Virginia Coal areas.

Build Test Plant
The long-range $120,000,000 program is expected to be in full production in Washington county, Pa., by 1950 or 1951. The company, however, plans to complete a $300,000 "pilot plant" at Library, 15 miles south of Pittsburgh, this year. The tests there will be made in cooperation with Standard Oil of New Jersey and with Hydrocarbon Research, Inc.

Pittsburgh-Consolidation estimated that a plant using 20,000 tons of coal daily would produce as much gas as passes through the Big and Little Inch pipe lines combined. About 6,000 workers would be required to man the plant and supply its raw materials.

The company said its pilot plant at Library will consume about 50 tons of coal daily and produce about 2,400,000 cubic feet of gas suitable for synthesis into liquid gas fuels of high heat value.

TEACHERS' PAY BOOSTS WOULD DOUBLE COSTS

Harrisburg, March 25 (AP)—Enactment of currently proposed legislation to increase salaries of Pennsylvania's 60,000 school teachers would more than double present school expenditures, a report to the General Assembly showed today.

One bill, backed by the Pennsylvania State Education association, would cost taxpayers $507,000,000 a year compared to current school outlays of $250,000,000 annually.

Another would boost costs to $570,000,000 a year and a third, to $632,000,000.

These figures came from the Legislature's School commission and Budget Secretary Edward B. Logan in a report asked by a joint resolution of the House and Senate to determine the cost of teacher salary bills now before the lawmakers.

Raises Minimum
The PSEA-backed bill provides for a single salary schedule for all classroom teachers employed by all classes of school districts, instead of the present classification by population of the 2,549 school districts in Pennsylvania.

The minimum salary scale would start at $2,400 instead of the present $1,400, under the measure which the report said would call for additional appropriations of at least $78,000,000 for the next biennium.

"When fully effective in 1951," the report continued, "the bill would call for additional commonwealth appropriations of at least $116,000,000 for the biennium, or 83 per cent more than the total public school subsidies appropriated by the session of 1945."

To Hold Hearings
Rep. D. Raymond Sollenberger (R-Blair), chairman of the House Education committee and co-sponsor with Rep. George D. Stuart (R-Allegheny), of the PSEA bill, has indicated public hearings on his measure will be held next month.

The two other bills which came under scrutiny will probably die in committee, an authoritative spokesman told a reporter, because they would throw "too great" a strain upon local taxing resources. One of them, sponsored by Rep. Delbert Dalrymple (R-Erie), would force school districts to increase local taxes by 62 per cent, the report indicated.

The first general congress of the English colonies in America assembled at Albany, N. Y., in 1754.

SAYS DEALERS FIGHT NEW LAW

Harrisburg, March 25 (AP)—Speaker Franklin H. Lichtenwalter (R-Lehigh) charged today "substantial sums of money" are being raised to fight legislation which he said would eliminate "unscrupulous and unconscionable practices" in automobile financing.

The money, he claimed, comes from an "unscrupulous minority" of dealers and financing agencies who were responsible for "all of the unethical practices found in the industry."

A series of eight administration-backed bills were introduced in the House last night by Lichtenwalter, chairman of an automobile financing committee of the joint state government (research) commission, together with Reps. Herbert P. Worg (R-Eli), House majority leader; C. G. Krise (R-Clearfield) and Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny), other members of the sub-committee.

Culminating a two-year probe of the installment buying business, the bills would establish a Pennsylvania consumers credit commission in the state banking department. Its three members would be appointed by the governor.

Democracy Class Attends Senate

Harrisburg, March 25 (AP)—Sixty-five members of the "Problems of Democracy" class of the Schuylkill Haven high school attended last night's session of the Senate.

The class was welcomed by Lt. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler, presiding officer of the Senate, after being introduced by Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Tamaqua).

Faculty members with the students included Paul S. Christman, Paul E. Hartnau and William Stauffer.

Playwright Would Divorce 4th Wife

Doylesburg, Pa., March 25 (AP)—John M. (Jack) Kirkland, author of the stage play "Tobacco Road," is suing his fourth wife, actress Halia Stoddard, for divorce on charges of "indignities to the person."

The 45-year-old playwright married Miss Stoddard at Springfield, Pa., in 1938.

Kirkland's suit listed no specific grievance other than "indignities" which Pennsylvania courts recognize as making life burdensome, unbearable, or being unable to live together.

Bean breeders have been seeking early varieties of snap beans with comparatively little fiber in the pod walls.

GASOLINE BULK PLANT BURNED; FUEL EXPLODES

Confluence, Pa., March 25 (AP)—Wracked by three fierce explosions and swept by flames, the bulk gasoline plant of the Ringer Independent Oil Co. went up in smoke yesterday, with loss estimated by the owners at $50,000 to $75,000.

Three men were hurled through a doorway by the first blast and three other persons were forced to leap from a second-story window when they were trapped by flames, but all escaped injury.

The outbreak of the fire was signaled by a terrific blast, apparently caused by a leaking gasoline line, according to the owners, Dwan Ringer and Howard Ringer, Jr.

Three 12,000-gallon tanks exploded in the course of an hour, adding fresh fury to the flames. Three other tanks, though ringed with fire, did not explode. The owners said they were unable immediately to estimate the amount of gasoline lost.

Blown Through Doorway
The flames not only burned the bulk plant but also the Ringer service station adjoining and an abandoned building of the Confluence Lumber Co. next door. Windows were knocked out of a feed company building across the street.

When the first explosion occurred, Dwan Ringer and two employees, Floyd Frazee and Denzell Younklin,

Announce Increase In Crude Oil Prices

Bradford, Pa., March 25 (AP)—The Joseph Seep purchasing agency of the South Penn Oil company last night announced a 34 cents per barrel increase for producers' runs and credit balances on coming grade crude oil in buckeye pipe lines, making the new price $2.35 a barrel.

SOAK NEW FLOWERPOTS

New flowerpots always should be soaked for a day or two in clean water before they are used for potting or starting seeds. This will leach out any harmful substances which may have formed in their manufacture and fill the pores with water. Unless this is done the wall of the pots will draw heavily on the moisture supply of the soil, which may seriously handicap the success of the sowing.

Fire departments from Confluence, Rockwood and Somerset poured water over the ruins for hours, fearful that a fresh outbreak of flames would explode the remaining tanks.

Small Pay Boost Ends Teacher Strike

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 25 (AP)—

The 11-day strike of 35 public school teachers in nearby Swoyerville borough ended with the educators getting an emergency cost-of-living increase of $50 and the promise of $50 more—if the money is available.

The teachers agreed to return to their classrooms tomorrow. Attnorsey Paul R. Selecky, solicitor for the school district, announced. He said the first $50 will be paid on or about June 2, 1947, at which time the teachers will meet with the board to determine if sufficient unanticipated taxes were available to permit a second $50 boost.

Selecky added that the board hopes to give a $100 increase next year.

CATTLE—Receipts at the opening of the week about equal in volume with the same period a week ago. Run made up chiefly of slaughter steers with good-grade steers predominating and only a moderate supply of medium-grade steers included in the day's receipts. All interests competed for the day's supply, with outsiders again taking a few loads of steers and low-grade cows.

Slaughter steers active and fully steady to strong compared with the close of last week. Top price of day $25.50, range of choice fed, averaged 1.075 pounds, and good medium, $15-22. Cows active and largely steady with the close of last week. Good young heifer-type beef, mostly oldhead, lots, $17-18. Common and medium of dairymilk, predominated, $11.50-12.50, with top medium to $16. Canners and cutters, $9-11, with an occasional "shelly" canner below $9 mark.

Bulls active and fully steady to strong, as compared with the close of last week. Good beef bulls largely $17-18, with an odd head $18.25. Medium and good weighty average, $16.50, with light and medium weight, $12-14.50. Stockers and feeder trade active and steady with the close of last week. Weighty feeder steers, $18.75-21, these being good and choice grades. Several loads of lightweight stockers included in receipts, but because of weight condition, little was done.

CALVES—Valuers active and steady with the close of last week. Mixed lots of good and choice, 150-220 lbs., largely $20-24, with strictly choice $25. Common and medium, $8-15, and culls, $5.

HOGS—Receipts sharply abridged, as compared with the heavy run of last week. Good and choice barrows and gilts, 120-140 lbs., $24.25-24.50; 140-160 lbs., $25.25-25.50; 160-180 lbs., $26.25-26.50; 180-220 lbs., $27.25-27.50; 220-250 lbs., $26.75-27; 250-300 lbs., $25.75-26; 300-350 lbs., $24.75-25; 350 lbs. up, $23-24. Good and choice, $27.75-22, with heavy sows considerably lower.

SHEEP—Receipts of slaughter lambs and slaughter ewes too meager to warrant a fair test of the market. Inquiry based and the undertone steady. Good and choice, 30-110 lb. woolled lambs, $25.50 down, with comparable slaughter ewes $9 down.

SAYS MUSSOLINI DIED A COWARD

Rome, March 25 (AP)—The reputed executioner of Benito Mussolini declared in an interview today that "Mussolini died a coward."

"He stood against the wall shaking with terror," said Walter Audisio, 37-year-old bookkeeper, who was identified by the Italian Communist party Saturday as Il Duce's killer, and known to the Italian underground as "Col. Valerio."

about 25 members present. In the absence of Worthy Master George Martin, the overseer, Morris Zentz was in charge. Roll call of officers showed that nine officers were present. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Clara Harner. The sum of $5 was donated to the Red Cross drive in Frederick county. The Emmitsburg Grange was asked for a donation for the new electric kitchen in Frederick. The amount was left undecided until the next meeting. The Emmitsburg Grange opposed daylight saving time with letters being sent to the senators and also the mayor of Frederick county. Mr. and Mrs. Quinn, New Market, were present at the meeting with Mr. Quinn explaining the "Bill To Tax Co-ops." He also explained more about the daylight saving time.

Hazel Keilholtz, a member of the bowling team gave a report that the team came out in fifth place in the league.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p. m. on Tuesday, April 1, instead of Wednesday, April 2, due to Holy Week, and will be held in the Emmitsburg high school. In the absence of the Worthy Lecturer, Mrs. Ruth Naylor, there was no program.

"He kept babbling 'But, but, but, but, Mr. Colonel."

"I killed him with five shots from a submachine gun."

"I had no intention of killing Claretta Petacci," Audisio continued, adding that the woman, Mussolini's mistress, threw herself in front of him to protect Il Duce.

"She said, 'Mussolini must not die,' Audisio declared. 'I told her: 'Get out of the way, or I'll shoot you too.' But she kept moving in front of him. I feel no sorrow for having killed her, too. You can't dramatize the role of this woman; events were superior to her forces."
